XXVIIITH SESSION-FIFTY-SECOND DAY.

SENATE.

SACRAMENTO, February 27, 1889. The Senate met at 10 A. M., President pro tem. S. M. White in the chair.

The Chair presented a protest from the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce against the passage of the street contractor's bill.

Dargie presented a protest from the employes of the California Cotton Mills against the employment of convict labor. loyment of convict labor. VETERINARY PRACTICE.

Williams moved to reconsider the vote by which the Senate refused to pass S. B. 127, an Act to regulate the practice of veterinary medicine and surgery in the State of California.

Bogs and Hinshaw strongly opposed the motion. It would work a hardship in the farming districts and create a monopoly.

The motion prevailed by a vote of 22 ayes to 11 noes. Foggs spoke against the bill again, and in-sisted that it would do a great injustice to farmers and stockmen. Conklin, Williams and Britt urged the passage of the bill, while Bowers and Campbell spoke against it.

The bill was denied passage by a vote of 19

CONTESTED ELECTION EXPENSES. CONTESTED ELECTION EXPENSES.

The Committee on Attaches, Contingent Expenses and Mileage, reported back, among other things, resolutions to pay the expenses in the contested election cases. When the the Sected read the amount allowed J. J. Sullivan, $2,846 49, Heacock proposed to strike out an item of $382 for the "services of men hunting witnesses, watching polls and taking tallies."

At the suggestion of Caminetti all of the contested election expenses were made a special order for Friday evening at 8 o'clock.

ONE MORE BILL. Wilson, at the request of Murphy, who was absent, was permitted to introduce a bill to extend the jurisdiction of the Board of State Harbor Commissioners over East street, from Pacific to Folsom streets. Referred to the Committee on Commerce and Navigation. SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA INSANE ALYLUM.

Welch moved to reconsider the vote by which the Senate on yesterday passed A. B. 62, to provide for the erection and management of a State Hospital for the Insane, to be located in Southern California. ritt urged the reconsideration so that the bill could be amended and make it conform to the statute in regard to having the work done by day's labor instead of by contract.

The motion was lost by a vote of 14 ayes to 24

STATE VETERINARY SURGEON S. B 625, to provide for the appointment of a state Veterinary Surgeon and assistants, to prescribe their duties and fix their compensation, and making an appropriation therefore, was read a third time.

Bowers denounced the bill in round terms.

It put it in the power of the State Veterinary Surgeon and his deputies to ruin any farmer in the State. It created new offices for the people to pay for.

Heacock pronounced the bill one of the most Heacock pronounced the bill one of the most important before the present session of the Legislature. It was particularly needed for San Diego county, where cattle diseases were nursed and never eradicated by climatic causes. He cited the report of a physician of Monterey county, that fourteen children had died in one little village there from malignant diphtheria, engendered by eating diseased meat. There was a general demand from all over the State for the passage of such a bill as this Boggs opposed the bill because it placed all the power in the hands of the State Board of Health. The appointment of the State Board of Health. The appointment of the State Veterinary Surgeon should be left with the Governor. It lodged 100 much power in the hands of the State Board of Health.

Incidentally he called their attention to the necessity of prompt legislation to protect the orange-growing industry of the State from destruction by insect pests.

Davis moved that the oranges be laid on the all the power in the hands of the State Board of Health.

Heacock replied that power was needed to stamp out disease.

The bill was passed by a vote of 28 ayes to 11 noes.

The Senate took the usual recess.

Further amendments were made in A. B. 72, in regard to the organization of agricultural as occations, and it was ordered reprinted.

The "Omnibus County Government Bill" came in from the Assembly and was referred to the Committee on County Governments. It was announced that the committee would meet tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock to consider the bill.

The Assembly message contained aucther illust ation of the loose manner in which business has been done in that body. It announced the passage of A. B. 247, to pay the claim of the Japanese Government for expenses in the extradition of Calvin Pratt. S. B. 236, which was identical, passed the Senate on February 12th, and was transmitted to the Assembly. It was then read a first time and placed ou file, and yet on yesterday, in utter obliviousness of the presence of the Senate bill, the Assembly took up and passed its own bill. The result was that the same subject matter had passed both houses and yet neither bill had been passed finally. Senator Meany was delegated to go to the Assembly and try and have the matter straightened out and subsequently the Assembly recalled its bill.

STATE PRISON INVESTIGATION. A. B. 613, authorizing the Governor of the State of California to proceed with an investigation of the State Prison authorities of this State, at the cost of the State, and to appropriate money therefor, came up on its passage.

Caminetti gave notice of a motion to recon-A NEW DEPARTURE.

There was a lively time when No. 18 on the second reading file was reached. The bill was introduced by McGowan, to amend the County Government Act, and there are on the file a number of other bills amending that Act. Pending their consideration the County Government Committee of the two houses prepared an omnibus bill to cover them all. McGowan therefore had no further use for his bill, No. 192, which was No. 18 on file, and therefore moved that he be allowed to substitute for it S. B. 473, which was No. 8 on the file.

This privilege had been denied other Senators several times and the proposi ion was met with a lively opposition. There were numerous references to a certain secret agreement among Senators to stick to the file, and some of those speaking in favor of McGowan's motion were covertly accused of falling down on their agreement.

The roll was finally called and the motion

The roll was finally called and the motion prevailed by a vote of 24 syes to 10 noes.

President pro tem. White did not attempt to conceal his indignation, and drew from his pocket the written agreement which had so often been referred to and returned it to Senator Bowers. It was ascertained that it had been circulated by McGowan and contained the signatures of twenty-three Senators.

Mead remarked that ten of the Senators had evidently stood by their agreement.

This action of the senate established a new rule, and it was understood that hereafter Senators would be permitted to withdraw bills of their own and substitute another.

STATE BOARD OF EXAMINERS.

S. B. 188, relative to the State Board of Examiners, and fixing the salaries of the members of the said Board and its employes, and defining the powers and duties of said Board, and making appropriations for traveling expenses, came up as a special order.

Senator Murphy, who had introduced a substitute for the bill, being absent on account of sickness, the bill was made a special order for to-morrow at 11 o'clock.

Wilson strongly opposed any further post-ponement of the bill. He said the bill was introduced at the request of the Governor and ought to be considered. STATE BOARD OF EXAMINERS.

SAN FRANCISCO'S POSTOFFICE. Commissioner Stone Approves the Action

Washington, February 27th.—Mr. N. B. Stone the new member of the Commission to select a site for the San Francisco public building, says that he has not yet signed the report made by Commissioners Irish and Bryan for the purchase of a site on Eighth and Mission streets. He believes that the older members of the Commission have done all in their rower to obtain the wo House smendments on which the conternce committee was unable to agree.

Sherman favored concurrence in the House imendments, and one also to buy the railroads.

He was in favor of the general principles embodied in the amendment, that every railroad company should be required to furnish the same facilities and modes of transportation for all sion have done all in their power to obtain the best obtainable site for the postoffice. Before the building is completed he thinks it will be in the heart of the most thickly populated part of the city. Mr. stone says that, having received his ap pointment last Saturday, he feels some un-versainty how to act in the matter. It is his be-lief that it would be very difficult to find a lite that could be purchased or obtained by condemnation, where minor heirs would not have an interest or some other consideration

Stewart opposed the amendments and Reagan stewart opposed the amenda supported them. He supported them. Cullom made an argument against them. He said the amendment in relation to cars for the transportation of petroleum, instead of carrying transportation of petroleum, instead of carrying transportation of petroleum, instead of carrying transportation to the people, would have an interest or some other considerations prevailed to prevent the Government securing a ctear and undisputed title to the property. The only objection Mr. Stone has to the site selected is that the building will contain the Sub-Treasury, and he thinks that bankers and others having busicess with the Sub-Treasury would object to its location at Eightnan Mission streets. He says he is inclined to approve the action of the other members of the Commission in choosing this site, but he has not yet finally determined what his decision will be, as he is in the minority on the Commission. It is not impossible that a selection will be made upon the representations of Messrs. Lish at d Bryan. transportation of petroleum, instead of carrying out equal and exact justice to the people, would enforce unjust discrimination. When one shipper required a railroad company to furnish a certain kind of car, and the company declined to do so, and when the shipper furnished such ears for himself, it did not seem to him that such shipper was required by the common law—or should be by statutory law—to supply the same facilities for all other shippers in the business. As to the other House amendment, to confer jurisdiction on State Courts, Cullom, believed the result would be that there would be different decisions in the construction of the national law. A sensational morning paper required no better foundation than his appearance in Chicago for a cockand-bull story concerning the alleged failure of Cavner and his associates to settle the Burling ton strike on terms satisfactory to the strikers. This story was telegraphed abroad last night by several correspondents, who wildly asserted that strikes and boycotts were to be immediately inaugurated, and that Cavner was here to engineer the matter.

"It is all a lie from beginning to end," said Mr. Cavner to-day, referring to the story in question. "There is not a shadow of truth in it. I have had no conference with the Burlington officials and have no reason to confer with them. The committee of which I was Chairman ceased to exist after completing its duties and making its report, and there ended my connection with the Burlington affair. I have heard of no dis-atisfaction among the men, and, don't believe there is any." The officials of the Burlington were equally emphatic in denying the story.

Naval Officer's Review of Klein's Conduct in Samoa.

New York, February 27th.—A letter from an officer of the United States steamer Nipsic to G. S. Walsh of this city, dated at Apia, Samoa, January 31st, presents John C. Klein in an unenviable light. It says he strutted about Matafa's camp with insufferable arrogance, azmed with a revolver resembling a Gardinengun. When the news first came to us on board, from himself, in regard to the disastrous defeat of the Germans at Valilii, he told a tale, with J. C. Klein in the foreground, that made him the victor. Since Germany's declaration of war against Mataafa he sought refuge on board this soip to avoid falling into the hands of the people whom he defeated so short a time ago. Yesterday the Captain of H. He defended his conduct in refusing to allow four members of the Legislature, whose seats were contested, to take part in the proceedings, and said that such Democrats as Thurman and Converse sustained his action, which was in accordance with every parliamentary authority.

Augusta (Me.), February 27th.—Hon. Henry Lord, President of the Maine Senate, to day received the following telegram from James 6. Blaine:

"I have this moment rend Boutelle's letter suggesting that the Legislatore provide a portrait of myself to be placed among the portraits of ex-Speakers of the National House of Representatives. Though well intended, I regret that the request was made, and hope that neither the Senate nor House will take any action whatever in the matter. It would be altogether distasteful to me to have such a proposition submitted to the Legislature." SUCH IS LIFE.

General Harrison.

Washington, February 27th.—General Harrison has kept indoors all day, the rain and sleet making his favorite form of exercise, pedestrian, decidedly unplessant. He breakfasted shortly before 8, and after going over his mail with Private Secretary Hailord, and dictating several letters, was ready for the heavy business of the day, that of receiving callers.

The first distinguished arrival was ex Secretary Windom, of Minnesota. Mr. Windom came over from Baltimore this morning, and after breakfast at his hotel was immediately driven to the Arlington. It is understood that the visit was by appointment. At any rate, there was no delay about admitting the ex Secretary to the presence of General Harrison, and the two remained together in close consultation for some time. It is not known whether the conference was satisfactory to Mr. Windom, as in answer to inquiries from correspondents he said he had nothing to say at present.

Among the other callers were Representatives Belden, Moffitt, Sherman and Baker of New York, Senators Dolph of Oregon, Frye of Maine, Paddock of Nebraska, Mitchell of Oregon, Hiscock of New York, Palmer of Michigan, Hawley of Connecticut, Sawyer of Wisconsin, Commissioner Walker of the Interstate Commerce Commission, Representatives Dunbam of Illinois, Stewart of Vermont, Lodge of Massachusetts, Thomas of Illinois, Keane of New Jersey, Adjutant General Drum and Senator elect Riggins of Delaware.

PACIFIC COAST SENATORS CALL. WASHINGTON, February 27th.—Senator Stanford of California and Jones and Stewart of Nevada called upon President-elect Harrison at 4 o'clock this atternoon. They informed the President-elect that they simply called to pay their respects to him. Governor Stanford said that the California people had nothing to say about the selection of individual members of his Cabinet. He said that any selection that would be made for a Cabinet position from the Pacific coast would be entirely acceptable to the Pacific coast would be entirely acceptable to the Congressional delegation in Washington.

To this invitation for an expression of opinion, General Harrison made no reply. He simply said that he was not committed respectively.

Washington, February 27th.—A Pacific coast Senator said to-day that he was satisfied tendays ago that General Harrison had determined not to give the Western s.ope a representation in the Cabinet. REASSESSMENT.

WHOLE NO. 11785.

THE QUESTION OF RETAXING THE RAILROADS.

A Candid Letter From Creed Haymond, Making Some Very Candid Propositions.

The following letter has been received by the hairman of the Assem ly Judiciary Committee, and will be read with interest by all who have given the subject of the proposed reassessment of taxes any consideration :

of taxes any consideration:

SAN FRANCIS O, February 17, 1889.

To the Honorobia members of the Judiciary Committee of the Assembly of Colifornia: Referring to my temarks of Saturday, and your expressed desire that the question whether the State Consideration of California relating to the assessment of the property of railroad companies is or is not in conflict with the Fourteenth Amendment to the National Constitution, and in response to your desire that the railroad company should submit some proposition looking not only the aspeedy settlement of that question but also some proposition as to the framing of a law under which revenues can be collected from railroads, and especially from such railroad companies as are in charge of railroads constructed and operated under authority of national laws and in part for national purposes.

First—There is now pending in the supreme Court of California five cases involving the question first referred to, via: The cases of the People vs. Central Pacific, same vs. couthern Pacific, same vs. Northern Railway, same vs. California Pacific and same vs. Sam Pablo and Tulare. These cases have been pending in the Supreme Court of the S Talare. These cases have been pending in the Supreme Court of this State for more than eighteen moaths, and soon will in regular order come on for hearing. In the first two cases these questions are involved:

1. The right of the State to tax the Federal 2. The constitutionality of the statutes of this State relating to the collection of railgoad taxes.

3 Whether the provisions of the Constitution of California retains to rairoat taxation violate that provision of the rourteenth Amendment to the National Constitution which secures ment to the National Constitution, which secures to all persons the equal protections of the law.

The Supreme Court of the United States has decided the first question and the decision is against the power. This will dispose of the first two cases when reached. two cases when reached.

In the other three cases no such question is raised, and I am willing, on the part of the company, to significant with the Attorney-General that either of said three cases may be advanced on the calendar and be orally argued.

General that either of said three cases may be advanced on the calendar and be orally argued on any day the Attorney-General may designate and the Court may fix. I am willing to stipulate that the only questions to be argued shall be the second and third questions above stated, and to join with the State in the request to the Court (in the interest of the State and of the company) to decide both questions. I believe both questions can be raised on the record now on file, but if there are any doubts of this, will agree that the records may be amended so as to remove all doubts. I will join with the Attorney-General in a request for a speedy decision. If after such decision the case goes to the Supreme Court of the United States I will stipulate to waive, for the purpose of obtaining a decision, the second point; and will agree to submit the cases on the third point alone on briefs, on the first day of the October term, 1889, under the ninety-day rule of the Supreme Court of the United States; or will, if the Attorney-General prefers, join with him in a request to that Court to advance the case on the calendar for argument and to set if at the earliest day possible. I will sign at once with the Attorney General a stipulation drawn so as to fally cover this proposition and to accomplish its purpose, namely, to get a final decision at the earliest day possible of the third question above stated.

Second—You are fully advised of the many difficulties which will be encountered in framing a just, equitable and effective system to collecting taxes from railroad companies—difficulties some of which may be rendered easy of solution by a decision on the effect of the four collecting taxes from railroad companies—diffi-culties some of which may be rendered easy of solution by a decision on the effect of the four-teenth amendment on the present system and others which involve careful consideration of the relations between the State and National Government, rowing out of the legislation of Congress, and the interest which the nation has in the transcontinental lines constructed at the justance of the nation and to subserve purposes WASHINGTON, February 27th .- The event now estance of the nation and to subserve purposes It is no disparagement of the abilities and wisdom of the members of the Legislature to suggest that it is apparent that it would be nearly impossible for them within the limits of nearly impossible for them within the limits of a legislative session to make the investigation devise and frame the laws, organic and statutory, and necessary to accomplish the purpose, and at the same time properly perform the other onerous duties which upon them devolve.

In view of the situation and the grave importance of the subject, would it not be wise for this Legislature to provide for the appointment of three competent and impartial persons to examine with care the subject, look into the laws of other States and countries, consider the subject ther States and countries, consider the st in all its relations and bearings, and devis such a system, frame the laws constitutional and statutory necessary to carry that system into effect and report at the next session of the Leg-islature. If the Constitution of California should be held to violate the Fourteenth Amendment, radical changes would be necessary, and the Commission could consider the case and propose a remedy. If otherwise, the relations of the rederal Government to most of the property in question, will afford ample employment to the question, will afford ample employment to the persons named.

These persons might be appointed by the Governor, selected by the Legislature or appointed by a board consisting of persons named in any bill the Legislature might, for the purpose, pass. For instance, by the Governor, Secretary of State, Controller, Attorney-General and Chief Justice of the Supreme Court.

If this course is pursued it might be well to authorize the same persons to revise the general revenue laws of the State, to the end that all the various provisions thereof might be simplified and brought into one general Act easily understood and administered.

Third—There is a difference of opinion between Mr. Dunn and others whether the value, or any part of the value, of the fences, along the right of way, since the year 1883, was included in the valuation of the property assessed by the State Board of Equalization.

As late as January 28, 1886, Mr. Delmas, who was the attorney for the Controller, in the Supreme Court of the United States, Volume 118, U. S. Reports, page 397, said: "Fences built upon the line of the roadway are a part of the roadway, as necessary to its protection. As much so as the railing of a bridge is a part of the bridge, or the framework of a tunnel is part of the tunnel. Such has always been the understanding of the law in California, and the fences have always been assessed by the Board of Equalization.

THURSDAY FEBRUARY 28, 1889. PRISON LABOR.

The workingman is committed to a radical mistake when he subscribes to the doctrine that employment of convicts in prison is injurious to him. We do not doubt the sincerity of the workers who hold to this idea; they honestly think that in reality labor in prison just that much shears labor out of prison. But it is a fallacious idea, and one that has been demonstrated to be an error. No compulsory labor ever materially interferes with free labor. The number of convicts employed in prison at trades is infinitesmal as compared to the whole body of men employed in useful labor. If, as Warden Brockway asks an entire lot of several hundred workers in a factory should all at once become convicts, and guards should be put upon the building and it declared a State prison, and couple.

Supper, 2) cents a couple. the men be still kept at work, would the result be any different from that prior to SAM JONES the change of attitude? All the prison entire product of manufacturing, amounted to so little as to be scarcely distinguishable, and this fact the labor statisticians have proved over and again; the percentage is so small indeed, that it has to be expressed in the one-hundreths of one per cent. Whatever the labor of convicts contributes to their support, that much lessens taxation, and nearly all taxation is visited upon the course, are the workingmen who object to convict labor. Moreover, the discipline of prisons, that there may be reform, that detention may have a beneficial influence and thus protect society from the criminal class, requires that prisoners shall be employed. And such employment must be at useful labor, for to engage the convict in mere profitless or fruitless labor, as the carrying of stones from one pile to another and then back again, is worse than idleness and produces, invariably, bad results. The men who labor, and the men who own property, pay cent of the cost of maintaining those pay the increased cost. If the convict should not work at a trade because of the fallacy that it shuts some free worker out from employment, then the legic of the argument will uphold the scheme of pre-inal and the dependent classes, and thus to steadily augment the burdens of the free producers and wage-earners. It is a question of doubt still, whether is was wise to have created the Cabinet Searetaryship of Agriculture. Not but that agriculture should continue to receive the aid of Government research and the dissemina tion of knowledge through Government agencies, but there was already a bureau that was very satisfactorily doing all that work. Originally the Cabine offices were intended to cover only the Friday and Saturday Nights, March 1 & 2 main departments of political government of State and foreign relations, of finance, of the army, of the navy, of internal domestic concern, of the postal system and of law. But, as intimated already, the ad dition of a Secretary of Agriculture opens the door to still further enlargement that if ever adopted, will make the Cabinet a very top heavy and unwieldy body, tending to complicate the administration of public We think experience will prove that the elevation of the Agricultura bureau to Executive rank will not materi augment its usefulness. But the position has been created, and we are about to enter upon the experimental stage of it. If it does not develop new and increased annoyance or labor for the Pres idents, we shall be agreeably disappointed. The fear is entertained becaus the tendency will be to bring more of "politics" into the Agricultural bureau to lead agriculturists to act politically as a class, since the politicians will work MONDAY, MARCH 4th. among them to that end, in order to b able to command their influence in aid of merely political schemes, and all such re sults are undesirable because diverting and

It is an unwise measure towns, cities and counties of the right to that in all other matters they are entirely competent to make and manage their local police regulations, but in this solitary one of saloon regulation it is proposed to write upon the statute book "incompetency " sgainst every community in the State. Of course the plea of uniformity of license is all bosh. There is no reason whatever why there should be a uniform license tax throughout the State. The Constitution and the laws now give to towns and cities of the State absolute freedom to Second and Last Exhibition legislate for themselves upon license fees, according to their needs and their judgment, and there is no reason whatever for withdrawing the grant.

GENERAL HARRISON went into Washington along a route where the people thronged to greet him. He met and addressed and shook hands with thousands of them. He rode in a regular passenger train, freely and unconcernedly, without guards or any special precautions. When Mr. Cleveland went to Washington to be inaugurated he departed with much secreev; his car was locked against every one except his immediate family and a halfdozen detectives who were employed to stand guard. When he arrived, detectives he arrived, detectives being sold on account of ill-health of the proprietor. Inquire on premises of stand guard. ALVORD EXPLAINS.

His Reasons for Breaking His Contract With the Sacramento Nine. The Sporting News of St. Louis, Missouri, in its issue of February 23d, contains a card from W. C. Alvord, who recently violated his contract with the base ball nine of this city. The News statement, the only one I have made or will make. Yours truly,

W. C. ALVORD,
Late third baseman, Sacramento Club.

The Sporting Nexe, by way of comment, adds:
"Alvord was given to understand that the California League was about to become a party to the national agreement, an event which would have thrown him out of employment, and neleft that organization simply to save himself.
Up to this time Alvord's record has been without a blemish. He has been employed respectively on the St. Louis Reserves, St. Louis Maroons and Des Moines clubs, and while with those organizations he has always played great ball. Third base is his home position, and he has always covered it in great style. He is one of the best fielders and throwers in America, a medium base runner and a very fair batsman. He will cover third base for the Toledo Club this year."

AFTER DOOMS.

District Attorney Edward Bruner Folk ws Him to St. Louis.

The sporting editor of the St. Louis Sporting News says:

"Edward Bruner, District Attorney, Sacramento, California." A card bearing the above title and address was handed me last Saturday by a tall, handsome, well-dressed gentleman of about 33.

"I came here," said he, "to consult the proper authorities in relation to the case of Henry Dooms, who received $200 advance money from the Sacramento Club, and who now refuses to play with the Sacramento Club, and who now refuses to play with the Sacramento Club, and who now refuses to play with the Sacramento Club, and who now refuses to play with the Sacramento Club, and who now refuses to play with the Sacramento Club." You can imagine my surprise at meeting a gentleman from such a distant point and on such an errand. There was a carriage standing by and Mr. Bruner invited me to drive to the Four Courts, where he said he was going to consult with the police and proper authorities.

He had very the face full de that of doubt and the face full do feet in the four the four that the california and the talt the face full de that of doubt and the crificism of a

You can imagine my surprise at meeting a gentleman from such a distant point and on such an errand. There was a carriage standing by and Mr. Bruner invited me to drive to the Four Courts, where he said he was going to consult with the police and proper authorities with a view to bringing Dooms to justice.

I got on board, and on the way to the Four Courts Mr. Bruner told me many things about the Sacramento players which greatly surprised me.

As Mr. Bruner described the case, he incidentally suggested that the Sacramento Club and its fresident, J. L. Gillis, were quite well off financially, and that they were willing to spend a good deal of money to get even with Dooms, Alvord and Quest and men like them.

He could not say anything definite about Quest. He had heard only that that player had signed with Toledo after having received several hundred dollars advance money from Sacramento. He did not know whether Quest had returned this money or not, but he did know that if he did not return it he would be prosecuted in the same manner as the others. By this time we had reached the Four Courts.

On our arrival there Mr. Bruner met Governor Charles P. Johnson, the leading criminal attor. know that if he did not return it he would be prosecuted in the same manner as the others. By this time we had reached the Four Courts. On our arrival there Mr. Bruner met Governor Charles P. Johnson, the leading criminal attorney of this state, in whose hands he has placed the Dooms case. He and Governor Johnson went to the office of the prosecuting attorney and swore out a warrant charging Dooms with fraud, that being the title of the offense under the Misscuri statutes

the Missouri statutes

Mr. Bruner then left the case in the hands of Mr. Bruner then left the case in the hands of Governor Johnson, but not until he had instructed him to leave no stone unturned in the way of bringing Dooms to justice.

The action of Dooms, Alvord and Quest ostracizes the Eastern players so far as the California League is concerned. From now on that body will give advance money to none but players permanently located on California soil. In other words, all the clubs of the California League will, from this forward, look to the coast for their supply of playing material.

In the executive session, it was soon noticed that a large majority were in favor of A. W. accommittee, consisting of E. B. Hussey, E. M. A committee, consi

In addition to the club voices there will be introduced twenty female voices in choruses adapted to mixed voices. This will be a decidedly new feature in the club's system, and will give the charm of variety to its entertainment. The concert will also serve to bring Mrs. NcNeill before her old friends under the most favorable conditions. The club has been under severe training and direction by W. H. Kinross, and if not so large as in its early life, it is unquestionably musically better, and in precision, nicety of tone and expression, far superior to its first efforts in concert. The club is striving to cultivate a public taste for music of the better order, and ceserves, therefore, the recognition of the people. The box-sheet is to be opened at Houghton's book store Saturday morning, and the terms are elsewhere fully stated.

It is an excellent play, and was very creditably presented, all the characters being well taken. The acting of Miss Georgie Woodthorpe and Miss Lawrence was most excellent. He spoke of the strong religious element in Toronto, Canada, and said that with a population of 100,000, they have twenty-six strong churches, and but two saleons, and entreated the people of this city to make Sacramento rank equally as high religiously. church and sing, "OH, TO BE NOTHING." You can't be nothing, sister; if you are going to only play on a harp and sing songs, everybody would be running over you. They couldn't see you.

Then you get up and say, "I am a poor worm of the dust." Where did you get that idea? Suppose the next time your husband lett home you were to write him thus:

"MY DEAR OLD WORM OF THE DUST," "MY DEAR OLD WORM OF THE DUST,"

He never would come home again. If he were to write you, "My dear old wormess of the dust," you wouldn't let him come into the house again. Did you ever see a worm dressed up anywhere except in the church? It is one point of the devil to get people to believe that they are nothing. Some folks say, "I just want to a broken, empty vessel." You can be it, if you want to, but I don't. You sing, "Surely the Captain may depend on me," and if the devil were to snap a cap, the whole thing would run out of town. THE "TIMES" REGRETS ITS WORK.

Russell expressed a desire to investigate the oudurt of houston and the conspiracy behind him.
Judge Hannen suggested that Sir Charles place his client in the witness-box and consider in the interim what action to take concerning Houston. Parnell was then called as a witness. His appearance in the box caused a stir in the Court Parnell firmly decided that the signature to the letter of May 5th was his, nor did he know the writer of the body of the letter. PHOOTT'S SUPPOSED MOVEMENTS.

LONDON, February 27th.—It is believed that Picott posted his letter at a railroad station in Paris and then proceeded for either Spain or Switzerland. It appears that Pigott obtained on Morday, from Lotherby's book mart, a check for £25 in payment for a number of rare books. Pigott had a check cashed that afternoon. LONDON, February 27th.—The friends and foes of the Times have made themselves heard o-day. From both there comes one burst of execration. That the Liberals and Home Rulers should relieve their long pent-up feelings was to be expected, but the Unionists curse both louder and deeper than do the Liberals. The Unionist party feels that the Times has well nigh wrecked the cause of Union, or has at any rate imperilled it by its incredible and inexcusable folly.

The Lordon "Times" Makes an abject Apology for its Conduct.

London, February 28th.—The Times this morning, in a leading editorial, quotes in full the apology tendered by Attorney-General Webster before the Partell Commission for the publication of the forged letters, and continues: "We desire to indorse as appropriate every word of the forged letters, and continues: "We desire to indorse as appropriate every word of the forged letters, and continues: are forgeries, we accept in every respect the truth of that statement. Pointedly on the Samoa Situation.

Berlin, February 27th.—The Deutsches Werchenblatt prints a letter on the Samoa question from a correspondent in sidney, N. S. W. The writer blames the Germans for supporting Tamasese, who he says is neither by birth nor by intellegence acceptable to the Samoans as a ruler. Mataafa is far more intelligent and influential than Tamasese, who is regarded as a usurper and traitor, willing to sell his country to strangers. Mataafa could formerly have been won to the German interests, but, being offended by the support given to Tamasese, he fell an easy prey to American intrigues.

The writer asks if this pearl (£amoa) is to be abandoned by Germany, and adds: "The annexation of £amoa could formerly have been accomplished. England would have protested only for the benefit of the gallery."
